ADD HARDWARE (OPTIONAL)

3 The OMP500 is a software based transcoding platform that can run on any server with Intel Xeon processors. The amount of processing capabilities is dependent on the content being encoded/transcoded and output profiles. The number of channels each server supports is a general estimation assuming HD inputs and transcoding to four video profiles with one HD and three SD profiles. For the most accurate dimensioning speaks with Sencore ProCare about dimensioning your application.
